Making shipping easy - Ship more orders in less time

The Zoovy and FedEx relationship goes back to our first CSP certification in 2004. The recent certification, including the Smart Post service, strengthens our ongoing relationship with FedEx.

Key

Benefits

- ▶ Scalable
- ▶ Automatic
- ▶ Reliable
- ▶ Compatibility Built-In

As a percentage, FedEx transactions have increased year over year. Our FedEx compatibility makes shipping easier and allows merchants to ship more orders in less time. Zoovy supports all popular FedEx services.

Scalable

Zoovy focuses on the same customers as FedEx's Ground Smart Post SMB division, those with fewer than 500 transactions a day. The great news is that as our customers grow past that milestone, we are able to scale with them. There is no need to switch e-commerce platforms.

Automatic

Zoovy automatically stores tracking numbers and sends professionally branded notification e-mails directly to customers. Tracking numbers are also automatically sent back to eBay, Amazon and Buy.com, reducing the time needed to process orders.

Reliable

Zoovy tracks orders by the employee that handles it, so it's easy to identify and prevent errors. Zoovy has built-in features which identify and prevent double shipments.

Compatibility Built-In

There is no technical expertise needed to setup FedEx in Zoovy. FedEx has to be designated as the primary shipping provider and a FedEx account number is all that's required. We also provide expert consulting to answer any configuration questions. The built-in shipping calculator makes checkout simple, showing estimated shipping costs.

Wrapup

When coupled with FedEx shipping solutions, Zoovy allows retailers to automate orders, print high quality shipping labels and automatically place FedEx tracking numbers directly into the confirmation order e-mail via Zoovy's built-in integrated e-mail system. This saves time and money and provides a professional appearance for the customer. Using FedEx Smart post allows small to mid-size retailers to level the playing field with large retailers. This shipping option results in 20-40 percent savings for retailers. With FedEx as a preferred ally, Zoovy merchants will have access to the Smart Post shipping service for the SMB market. FedEx Smart Post shipping is available immediately on the Zoovy eCommerce platform.
