

Zoovy: an overview

the most complete web store & online
business management package available

Don't let today's success limit your potential for future growth

The most difficult aspect of operating an online business isn't finding the right technology solution – it's making the right solution(s) work together.

Zoovy provides a comprehensive end to end suite of technology and tools that were designed from the ground up to interoperate seamlessly.

This unique approach to online business clearly differentiates it from the thousands of other "stand-alone" and "bolt-on" technology offerings by providing a set of tools, designed around "best practices", that are licensed on a monthly basis and allow a company to get the technology solution they need today, with investment protection for tomorrow. We proactively seek out emerging technologies and pre-integrate them into our platform, typically months before our customers ever ask for them. So for most business owners, there is no integration work – everything is already built in, tested, ready to go and supported by our friendly and knowledgeable staff.

Zoovy combines the resources of the e-commerce industry's biggest names with over 600 tools and services to provide the most complete online business management and web store solution. Zoovy provides everything you need to build, manage, market and grow a successful online business—all in one easy-to-use package.

This flexible and scalable solution works for all sizes and types of e-businesses. With hundreds of tools that cover all e-commerce needs, any online business can find what it needs to run a profitable and efficient business.

Having spent 6 years on the forefront of ecommerce technology, Zoovy continues to bring sellers the most cutting edge e-business solutions. Whether it's increased security options, new marketplaces or money saving order management features, Zoovy constantly provides the most advanced tools to help sellers stay well ahead of the competition.

Featured Products

Supply Chain

Zoovy Supply Chain makes communication between merchant and supplier almost seamless. The technology automates and tracks inventory, pricing and orders for e-businesses that use any combination of in-house warehouses, fulfillment centers or drop shippers.

Marketplace Syndication

Zoovy has the most extensive list of marketplace partners so merchants can get their products listed on the most popular auction and comparison shopping sites.

- Advanced technology allows sellers to list thousands of products simultaneously on multiple marketplaces.
- The software automatically lists products from the user's website onto selected markets and maintains the listings, automatically adding new products and removing out of stock products.

Order Manager Windows Client

Zoovy Order Manager saves merchants cost and effort by automating the numerous time consuming tasks involved in processing orders. Order manager replaces the need for a number of employee roles. A few of the features:

- Full and secure payment processing with flexible options.
- Powerful customer relations management (CRM) reporting features for email or direct mail.
- Ability to batch print FedEx and UPS airbills, invoices, packing slips, and USPS postage right from the computer. Fully compatible with popular integrated digital scales and thermal label printers available from FedEx and UPS.
- Desktop client functions offline for better speed and convenience, resulting in increased employee efficiency.
- Synchronized inventory, shipping, product database support for point of sale/ mail order/telephone order processing. Can work offline for processing orders at tradeshow or in the event Internet access is unavailable.
- Integrated with QuickBooks for quick, easy and accurate bi-direction synchronization of invoices/sales receipts, customers, products, and inventory.

With Zoovy Order Manager, e-businesses can deliver more accurate, professional and timely service.

Specialty Site Domain Hosting

E-businesses can target different demographics and boost their site rankings with specialty sites.

- Zoovy provides an unlimited number of domains, so merchants can try out different pricing, inventory, promotions and web designs on their different sites.
- The software pulls from a unified inventory, so users can create a new site in just a few minutes.

Website Bonding

E-businesses can gain shoppers' trust by becoming a bonded website.

- Customers can pay a small fee to bond their transactions.
- The bond guarantees that the merchant will deliver the product as stated or buySAFE will reimburse the customer—virtually eliminating the financial risk involved in buying online.
